The Journal

The Journal of Asia and Europe Relations covers the latest research on all topics relevant to Asia and Europe relations. It aims to provide readers with a truly global and comparative perspective. Featured articles will be published digitally with an International Standard Serial Number (ISSN).

Selected contributors will be issued with a digital publication certificate and will have the opportunity to present their paper in our global seminars and conferences.

The journal is primarily aimed at policy issues and the role of youth engagement. Our global policy-makers include young academics, professionals, and future leaders of highly relevant fields. All papers will go through a peer-review process to meet STEAR's standards.

Submission Process

- Abstracts and final articles can be submitted by individual authors as well as small teams of authors
- We welcome researchers, scholars, and young professionals from all disciplinary backgrounds between the age of 18-30 to send in their submissions.
- Please submit your abstract and paper through our website
- The abstract should be no longer than 300 words, while the article can range from 4000 to 5000 words.
